I built this solo, by hand, while training between commits. The fact that you trusted me with $1.99 before there was even a download link — that's everything. Reply to the receipt anytime. I read every message.

When the public launches and Vanguard passes are gone forever, your founder slot stays. That's the deal.

P.S. — The real story: I slept through my 5 AM alarm for three straight years. Then built an app that calls me like a real coach checking in. I missed it the first day. I haven't missed one since. Reply "story" to the email and I'll send you the full version.
